Track Handicapper – Gabe Prewitt

Race 1		Selections	2-3-5-1	Gingras chose 1 over 6
1	Jula Trix Treasure	Should continue to improve in only his 2 nd career start this afternoon, but would still likely need to step things up a notch to make any major noise. I'll consider for bottom of exotics only once again.
2	All Rise	I was very impressed with his local debut, he trotted home well in there to finish up a solid 2 nd in behind the heavy fav. Dodges that rival this afternoon, any similar effort may be enough to get it done here.
3	Mister Walker	Made a couple of different breaks in that last mile, but keep in mind this guy does have some talent as evidenced by the stakes win in his career debut. Will he keep his mind on business this afternoon? Let's hope so.
4	I Have a Dream	Appeared to have some talent when he burst on the scene earlier this summer on the east coast, but he appears to have tailed off a bit since arriving locally. Would need a big turnaround here.
5	Durham ville	He finally minded his manners last week, but he went to the top and set some blazing fractions before ultimately tiring in the late stages. We know he has some talent, but Zeron will have to find a way to ration out the speed still.
6	Sheena Soldier	Just when he seemed to be heading in the right direction he made a break in stride here last week. Can't afford any mistakes this afternoon against a solid group. Best effort likely puts him in play.
7	Marquis Lafayette	He made up a LOT of ground in the most recent Q'fer, but still might be asking a bit much this afternoon in his career debut against more experienced foes. I'll watch him go around once first.

Race 2		Selections	7-1-3-2	Tetrick chose 2 over 6
1	Love a Good Story	Parlayed a perfect pocket trip to spring the 7-1 upset when she stretched back out to the big track in local debut. We aren't going to get that type of price today, but any similar effort should put her right there once more. Big chance.
2	Hello Tomorrow	Had things her own way on the front last time, but she just couldn't find a way to buckle down and seal the deal late. Still a nice effort, she has proven she can hold her own with top shelf stakes rivals.
3	Crucial	She packs a solid stakes resume, and she seems to have stepped things back up a notch since adding Lasix a couple of starts back. Major player.
4	Violet Stride	Saved ground en route to a minor share last week, and that is about the same result I could anticipate for her this afternoon as well. I will consider for the bottom of exotics once again.
5	Queso Fresco	Lost all chance with a break in stride in local debut, and still appears to be a notch or two below the top fillies in here as well. I'll wait for a better spot.
6	Cover Girl	Trotted home evenly last week, but seems to have drawn in against an even deeper group overall this afternoon. Would have to step things up a bit still.
7	Sorella	A runner-up in the $252k PASS Final two starts back, this filly has proven she packs a powerful punch to this point in her brief career. I wouldn't overlook.

Race 3		Selections	2-3-6-4
1	Blood Red	Threw in a clunker here last week, but we do know she is better than that from her prior efforts in KYSS action. That said, she lands in what seems to be a shark tank this afternoon. Not quite sure she is ready for these.
2	Reflect With Me	Had a touch of traffic trouble in that $405k stake at Mohawk, she really didn't get rolling in there until it was too late. She has proven she packs plenty of speed, she should be right in the mix once again.
3	Looksgood inaromper	Connections have been VERY confident that this filly can step up and go with Grand Circuit competition, she proved to be much the best in the state of OH to begin her career. Her toughest test to date, but must respect credentials.
4	JK First Lady	She has held her own with the very best fillies in NA to begin her career, including a close finish last out in the big stake at Mohawk. Any similar effort puts her close once again.
5	Wingding Hanover	Managed to pick up the nickel last week, but still seems to be a notch or two below the top ones in another tough crew this afternoon. I'll wait for a better spot.
6	The Bethinator	She unleashed a vicious closing kick to easily put away her LC foes here last week for her 5 th consecutive win. Takes a step up to the major leagues this afternoon and hooks a tough crew. Won't be easy, but must respect form.
7	Merga Hanover	Maybe not quite as sharp over her last couple of starts as what we saw earlier in the summer, but she has still proven she packs plenty of speed. Not an easy group today, she will need her very best punch.
8	New Year	Things didn't set up all that well for her last week, but she still sprinted home nicely to finish close. Should continue to improve in only her 4 th career start this afternoon. Lots of upside potential.

Race 4 Selections 7-2-5-4 Gingras chose 5 over 4

1	Do No Lindy	Tough to gage this first time starter, but we haven't seen an abundance of speed in his qualifying efforts into today. Might need another start or two to catch up to the top ones in here still. I'll watch one.
2	Bargain Bob	Bob put in a major scare to a heavy fav here last week at a bargain price of 13-1. That was a much improved effort, seems to be heading in the right direction. I'll try him to be close in behind the heavy fav once again.
3	Jax Reddy	Pulled off a nice win in the $50k KY Consolation, but ended up 'sick' when in to go here last week. Will we get his very best effort this afternoon? Not sure.
4	Hall It Off	He appeared to be well on his way to a very close 3 rd place finish here last week before making a break in deep stretch. Can't afford any mistakes today in competitive crew, but we know he has some talent. Your call.
5	Sermon	He seemed to be going along nicely before making a break at the top of the stretch last week, will need a quick rebound here this afternoon and hooks the big fav once again. I'll consider underneath only.
6	Father Dunn	Picked up some of the pieces late to finish a distant 3 rd in behind #7 here last week, one of several in play in behind the fav again here. Maybe.
7	Maester aemon	Overpowered his rivals here last week, and seems to be in another comfortable spot today. Should be able to deliver the knockout punch once again, in search of his 4 th in a row.

Race 5 Selections 8-2-3-1 McCarthy chose 8 over 4

1	Sister Sledge	Suffered the first loss of her career here last week, she didn't seem to be quite as sharp as what we had seen from her on the PASS circuit. Lands in another tough group, will need her very best here.
2	Shishito	A very impressive win here in the opening week action, she dug down there and fended off some tough rivals late. She has been ultra-consistent to begin her career against good company. Lots to like.
3	Seventimes alady	Couldn't quite hang with the top pair last week in late stages, but still put in a solid bid to hold 3 rd . I will consider her for another minor share again this afternoon.
4	Caviart Eva	She's getting a bit hard to trust of late, she's made breaks in 3 of her last 4 starts into today. I have always been a big fan of hers, but I'll wait until we see a hint of improvement.
5	Sweet ShirleyMae	A nice ground saving try here last time on the step up to stakes company, but faces what seems to be an even deeper group overall this afternoon. Will have to step things up a bit still.
6	Miss Wilia	No factor against top level stakes foes here last week, and seems to be facing another uphill battle this afternoon. I'll wait for a better spot.
7	Miss Kendra D	She was 'ok' here against KYSS rivals earlier this summer, but seems to be facing a much better crew overall this afternoon. Might be asking a bit much to hang with the top ones in here still.
8	Ramona Hill	Undefeated filly couldn't have been anymore impressive last week, and we really don't even know just how good she is at this point. Hard to go against her, looking forward to seeing her once again.

Race 6 Selections 5-8-2 Gingras chose 2 over 4; Dunn chose 3 over 7; Tetrick chose 5 over 9

1	Lady Lou	Lands on the pole here today in what appears to a fairly wide open div. Chased home a good group evenly last week, I will consider her for bottom of exotics once again.
2	Gai Waterhouse	She's enjoyed a very nice start to her career over the red clay, finishing close in behind a tough pair in GC action last week. Gets the slight call as the fav today in wide open group, best effort should put her very close once again.
3	Peaky Sneaky	She's been chasing very tough company north of the border of late, but does land in what seems to be the softer of two divs this afternoon. Should be able to hang with this crew. One of several with a punchers chance.
4	Shoulda beenatd	A good week for the connections as this filly was a solid runner-up, and her namesake squad (Steelers) finally found a team they could beat. Wouldn't shock me to see her close in a wide open group, but we can't use them all.
5	Rocknificent	Got hopelessly pinned in last week, and appeared to have plenty of pace with no place to race. Plenty of options this afternoon, we will hope for a smoother journey. We know she has plenty of talent.
6	Hidden Cove	A slight notch below the top ones last week, and would likely still have to pick things up against another contentious group this afternoon. I'll pass for now.
7	Sweet Ace	She has held her own with some good company to begin her career, but hasn't really had her fastball working over the last couple of starts. Needs a big rebound this afternoon, it won't be easy.
8	Hen Party	I was very impressed with her local debut, she exploded home through the stretch and finished close in behind a tough trio. That was a major step in the right direction, and we should get another square price today.
9	Beyond Ecstasy	She's gone down as the fav in each of her last two stakes tries, but we should get a much improved price today after landing in a tough post. Wouldn't blame you for taking a swing.
